Sci-Fried

Band Bio

Chuck Silver and Jim Frederick formed sci-Fried in early 2008. With the help of the Chuckcon crew, Christine Evans-Arriaga, David C. Edwards and Don Bedewell we started writing parody songs. Then Dr. Vern and KSV joined to sing and poof! Sci-Fried was born. We then added Sunni Simmons on bass and Mike Folk on guitar. Our love for writing parodies turned into writing original music with sci-fi themes. We all have a love for Science Fiction and Rock music, so we decided to mix the two. There is a large musical void for good rock music with sci-fi themes. Word spread about what we were doing and people wanted to hear more. We made a demo CD for free distribution around conventions and music venues and soon found it difficult to keep up with the demand for more. We soon found ourselves in studio working on two separate projects: Our brand new, all-parody album "Ramming Speed" and our debut all-original album "Geeks Unite". Coming with the release of these CDs is our intent to launch TOUR 2010: The Year We Make Con-Tact. Our plan is to perform live at multiple conventions in 2010, bringing our music to the people for whom it is intended, fans of Sci-fi / Fantasy / Horror / Rock.

Sci-Fried does not see Harry Potter fans or Star Wars guy, comic book geeks or Star Trek nerds. We see Geek Nation; an enormous group of multi-talented fans that account for box-office billions and shape the landscape of television. We see people who share our love and passion. We are them and we are ALL Sci-Fried!

Members

Dr. Vern- Lead Vocalist, Trumpet

The Madman of the Band, Dr. Vern employs a combination of girth, range and theatrics. He always wants the room to rock and will stop at nothing to accomplish that mission.

KSV- Vocalist, Harmonica

KSV's rapid-fire delivery and ingenuity add the perfect spice to Sci-Fried. His vast knowledge of all things "geek" is evident in his lyrics, bringing authority to the creativity of Sci-Fried vocals.
